VOLUME I INDEX

Number 1 (Spring) pp. 1-99
Number 2 (Summer) pp. 101-221
Number 3 (Fall) pp. 223-333
Number 4 (Winter) pp. 335-462

A

"The Active Board with Outside Directors and the Family Firm," 223-229
Adaptation. See Organizational adaptation
"Adaptation, Survival, and Growth of the Family Business: An Integrated Systems Perspective," 69-85
Adult and career development theory, 364
Advisory boards, 268-269, 276-277, 280-281, 287-288. See also Advisory councils
Advisory councils: vs. boards, 287; organizing, 287-288. See also Advisory boards
Alderfer, C. P., "Understanding and Consulting to Family Business Boards," 249-261
American Business Conference, 354
Anderson, C. A., The New Corporate Directors, reviewed, 323-327
Anderson, R. M., The Family in Business: Understanding and Dealing with the Challenges Entrepreneurial Families Face, reviewed, 211-215
Anthony, R. N., The New Corporate Directors, reviewed, 323-327
Armand Hammer, 124
Aronoff, C. E., review by, 450-454
Articles: "Boards of Privately Held Companies: Their Responsibilities and Structure," 263-269; "A Business Owner's Perspective on Outside Boards," 231-237; "Commentary on Legal Liability: Organizing the Advisory Council," 287-288; "Culture and Continuity in Family Firms," 37-50; "Differential Directorship: Special Sensitivities and Roles for Serving the Family Business Board," 239-247; "Family Businesses and Employee Ownership," 23-35; "Family Firm and Community Culture," 165-189; "Family-Owned Businesses: An Emerging Field of Inquiry," 145-164; "A Historical Overview of Family Firms in the United States," 51-68; "Incongruent Hierarchies: Daughters and Younger Sons as Company CEOs," 9-21; "Legal Liability: The Board of Directors," 279-285; "The Role of the Board in the Threshold Firm," 309-321; "Selecting Outside Directors," 271-277; "The Special Role of Strategic Planning for Family Businesses," 105-117; "The Succession Conspiracy," 119-143; "A Survey of Board Practices," 289-308; "Understanding and Consulting to Family Business Boards," 249-261
Asset board, 303
Astrachan, J. H., "Family Firm and Community Culture," 165-189

B

Barnes, L. B., "Incongruent Hierarchies: Daughters and Younger Sons as Company CEOs," 9-21
Board members: characteristics, 232-233, 269, 272-273; and closely held companies, 318-320; compensation, 246-247, 276; criteria, 240, 315-316; desirability, 251; educating, 236; and family-related problems, 243-245; independent perspective, 245-46; legal liability, 279-285; legal requirements, 264-265; proportion, 253; roles, 240-241, 314-315; selecting, 232-234, 274-275; and stakeholders, 245; working with, 236-237. See also Outside boards; Private company board practices, survey
Boards of directors: CEO's view of, 237; family business, 239-247, 249-261; and firm's history, 256; legal function, 280-281; legal liability,

Boards of directors (continued)
279–285; and management, 257; meetings, 234–236, 267; outside, 231–237; performance review function, 237, 251; practices, 289–307; private company, 263–277; and succession planning, 449–450; threshold firm, 309–321. See also Board members; Family business boards; Outside boards; Private company board practices, survey; Private company boards; Succession: boards of directors
"Boards of Privately Held Companies: Their Responsibilities and Structure," 263–269
Book reviews: Corporate Leadership: Boards, Directors, and Strategy, 330–333; Cultural Change in Family Firms: Anticipating and Managing Business and Family Transitions, 91–94; Family Business, Risky Business: How to Make It Work, 215–217; The Family in Business: Understanding and Dealing with the Challenges Entrepreneurial Families Face, 211–215; Family Pride: Profiles of Five of America's Best-Run Family Businesses, 94–99; Keeping the Family Business Healthy: How to Plan for Continuing Growth, Profitability, and Family Leadership, 217–220; Merchant Princes: An Intimate History of Jewish Families Who Built Department Stores, 450–454; Minding the Store, 87–91; The New Corporate Directors, 323–327; Outside Directors in the Family Owned Business, 327–330; Passing the Baton: Managing the Process of CEO Succession, 447–450
Bork, D., Family Business, Risky Business: How to Make It Work, 215–217
Bowman-Upton, N., review by, 447–450
Brody, F., "Family Businesses and Employee Ownership," 23–35
Bureau of the Census, U.S., 120, 143
Business judgment rule, 281
"A Business Owner's Perspective on Outside Boards," 231–237

C

Capital: sources, 202–205; venture, 320
Caterpillar, Inc., continuity planning in, 420–426
Change: business response to, 149; and closure, 138; constraints on, 201–202; coping with, 364; as death, 124; environmental, 107–108, 132; family system, 344; leadership, 243; managing, 154, 311. See also Organizational change
Chief executive officers (CEOs): background, 304; and board behavior, 290; as board directors, 252; as chairpersons, 266, 277; and consultants, 254–255, 274; daughters as, 11–20; as entrepreneurs, 311–313; of Fortune 500 companies, 313–314; as preceptor, 314; problems, 231; retirement, 27–30; 127–136; and role of board, 299; satisfaction with board, 304–305; self-awareness, 48–49; succession, 447–450; view of outside board, 231–237, 317–318; younger sons as, 11–20. See also Founders
Chief operating officers (COOs), 233
Classics: "Adaptation, Survival, and Growth of the Family Business: An Integrated Systems Perspective," 69–85; "The Family Business," 427–445; "The Family Business in Contemporary Society," 191–210
Closely held companies, and outside directors, 318–320
"Commentary on Legal Liability: Organizing the Advisory Council," 287–288
Consultants: effective, 258; relationship with CEO, 254–255; self-awareness, 257
Consultation, group: and CEO, 254–255; with corporate boards, 355; and emotional issues, 257; feedback report, 258–259; objectives, 254; reasons for, 255
Contingency theory, 214–215
Corporal Industries, 167
"Corporate Director's Guidebook" of the American Bar Association, 240, 279

Corporate Leadership: Boards, Directors, and Strategy, reviewed, 330–333
Corporate mission, 257
Corporate veil, 282
Correll, R. W., review by, 87–91
Cultural Change in Family Firms: Anticipating and Managing Business and Family Transitions, reviewed, 91–94
Culture: case study (Quality Commodity Company), 167–188; categories, 166–167; family, 344, 368–369, 408–411
"Culture and Continuity in Family Firms," 37–50

D

Danco, L. A., Outside Directors in the Family Owned Business, reviewed, 327–330
Davis, J. A., review by, 91–94
Davis, P., "Adaptation, Survival, and Growth of the Family Business: An Integrated Systems Perspective," 69–85
de Mik, L., The Family in Business: Understanding and Dealing with the Challenges Entrepreneurial Families Face, reviewed, 211–215
Department stores: growth, 451–452; Jewish founders of, 450–454
"Differential Directorship: Special Sensitivities and Roles for Serving the Family Business Board," 239–247
Director and officer, (D&O) insurance, 268, 301
Director-CEO relationships, individual model of, 258
Diversification, 348–350
Drexler, J. A., Jr., review by, 330–333
Du Pont de Nemours, 429
Dun & Bradstreet, 119, 142
Dunn, T. W., review by, 323–327
Dyer, W. G., Jr.: Cultural Change in Family Firms: Anticipating and Managing Business and Family Transitions, reviewed, 91–94; "Culture and Continuity in Family Firms," 37–50
Dynasties: in Europe, 63–64; and family responses, 64–66; history, in U.S., 51–67; market activity relations, 60–61; political impact, 61–64. See also Family businesses

E

E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Inc., 429
Elman, N. S., "Family-Owned Businesses: An Emerging Field of Inquiry," 145–164
Employee stock ownership plans (ESOPs): benefits, 23–25; case study (M. W. Carr Company), 30; CEO's retirement, 27–30; details, 31–35; and family firm values, 25–26; pitfalls, 26–27; as succession mechanism, 344
Employees: loyalty, 435–436; ownership of business by, 23–35; performance, 443–444; profit sharing, 354
Employment, restrictions, 442–443
Entrepreneurial approximations, 350–351
Entrepreneurs. See Founders
Entrepreneurship, defined, 347
Estate planning, 128
Everett Hardware Manufacturing Company, 432
The Executive Committee, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 289
Exxon, 346–347

F

Family: adaptive mechanisms, 209–210; belief system, 367; control, 205–208; council, 137–138; culture, 344, 368–369; 408–411; extended, 199–200; interaction typologies, 366; integrative function of, 412; management qualifications, 196–198; members: 195–196; negative influence of, 147; paradigms, 367; perspective, 212–213; strategic plan, 109; succession plan, 127–129; values, 116, 200–201
Family business boards: case examples, 241–243; characteristics, 249; consulting to, 249–260; directorship roles, 240–241; group consultation to, 254–259; group dynamics, 250–254; nonfamily members' perspective, 239–240; objectivity, 250–251; observing, 253–54; practices, 302–304; relationship with CEO, 249; self-reflective, 259–260. See also Boards of directors

Family business boards (continued)
Family business systems theory, 366–368
Family Business, Risky Business: How to Make It Work, reviewed, 215–217
Family businesses: capital sources, 202–205; changes, 46–50, 71–83; and community culture, 165–188; continuity, 45–50, 106–107, 119, 245, 439–441; culture, 37–45; developmental stages, 151–156; diversification, 348–350; dynastic history, in U.S., 51–67; emotional aspect, 78–80; employee loyalty, 435–436; employee ownership, 23–35; estate planning, 44; ethics, 246; failure, 107–108, 217–218; family systems theory and, 365–367; favoritism, 441–442; financial analysis, 111–113; human resource policy, 354; inferiority, 250; integrated systems approach, 69–84; intersystem boundaries, 75–78; laissez-faire, 42–43; leadership patterns, 344; literature on, 250; market activity impact, 60–61; marketing, 431; nepotism, 431–432; nonrational component, 250, 254, 257; open-systems model, 399–400; outsiders in, 244; participative, 43–44; paternalistic, 39–42; performance review, 237, 251; personal sacrifice, 433–434; and politics, 61–64; professional, 44–45; profit discipline, 430–431; rational approach, 146–148; realizing potential of, 109–110; reputation, 434–435; restructuring identities, 13–16; role of high-status friends, 17–20; social sensitivity, 438–439; specialization, 350; stockholders, 436–438; strategic planning, 105–117; strengths, 433–441; succession patterns, 10–11, 119–143, 152, 243, 247, 250; systems approach, 156–162; tenure of executives, 438–439; weaknesses, 428–433; women in, 383–397
"Family Business and Employee Ownership," 23–35
Family capital model, 345, 354
"Family Firm and Community Culture," 165–189
Family firms. See Family businesses
The Family in Business: Understanding and Dealing with the Challenges Entrepreneurial Families Face, reviewed, 211–215
"Family Owned Businesses: An Emerging Field of Inquiry," 145–164
Family Pride: Profiles of Five of America's Best-Run Family Businesses, reviewed, 94–99
Family systems: and change, 344; integration and, 401–402; theory, 159–160, 365–367
Feature: "Family Business Continuity from the Corporate Side," 419–426
Financial analysis, 111–114
Financial restructuring, 343–345
Findlay Art Gallery, 440
Ford Motor Company, 444
Fortune 500, 313, 316
Founders: ambivalence, 124–125; emotional needs, 134–135; entrepreneurial, 148; meaning of firm to, 363–364; motivations, 148–149; networks, 132; personality, 149; power needs, 125; psychological elements, 362–365; rivalry, 126; sense of self, 125–126; spouses, 127–128; transition role, 136. See also Chief executive officers

G

Gain-sharing plans. See Profit-sharing plans.
Goldwasser, T., Family Pride: Profiles of Five of America's Best-Run Family Businesses, reviewed, 94–99
Growth: barriers, 345–347; business, 108; constraints, 201–202; institutionalizing, 343; interventions to increasing, 348–350; and interpreneurship, 342–345; models, 151–156; vision, 346

H

Hall, P. D., "A Historical Overview of Family Firms in the United States," 51–68
Handler, W. C., "Succession in Family Firms: The Problem of Resistance," 361–381
Handy, J. L., "A Survey of Board Practices," 289–308
Harris, L., Merchant Princes: An Intimate History of Jewish Families Who Built Department Stores, reviewed, 450–454
Harvard Business Review, 223
Harvard Business School, 347
Heidrick, G. W., "Selecting Outside Directors," 271–277
Henry Manufacturing Company, 12–13
"A Historical Overview of Family Firms in the United States," 51–68
H. J. Heinz Company, 436, 440
Hollander, B. S. "Family-Owned Businesses: An Emerging Field of Inquiry," 145–164
Hollowell Glove Company, 431
Hopwell Fabricated Material Company, 437
Howard Wine Company, 431
Human resource policies, 354

I

"Incongruent Hierarchies: Daughters and Younger Sons as Company CEOs," 9–21
Information systems, 353
Inheritance, 52–54, 60–61. See also Family businesses: dynastic history of, in U.S.
"Integration in the Family Firm: When the Family System Replaces Controls and Culture," 399–417
Integrated systems approach, 71–83
International Harvester, 45
Interpreneurship: barriers to, 345–347; case example, 355–357; defined, 340–342; and family system change, 344–345; increasing, 348–355; and organizational change, 343–344; politics, 355; setting stage for, 342–345

J

J. Bildner and Sons, 339–340
Johnson, P. A., The Family in Business: Understanding and Dealing with the Challenges Entrepreneurial Families Face, reviewed, 211–215
Johnson and Johnson, 341
Jonovic, D. J., Outside Directors in the Family Owned Business, reviewed, 327–330

K

Keeping the Family Business Healthy: How to Plan for Continuing Growth, Profitability, and Family Leadership, reviewed, 217–220
Kings Supermarkets, 339–340
Kollmorgen Corporation, 352–353
Komatsu, 419
Kram, K. E., "Succession in Family Firms: The Problem of Resistance," 361–381

L

Lamont, A.C.S., review by, 327–330
Lamont, L. M., review by, 327–330
Lansberg, I., "The Succession Conspiracy," 119–143
"Legal Liability: The Board of Directors," 279–285
Levi Strauss and Company, 42–43
Liability, of directors: and advisory councils, 287–288; costs, 301–302; duty of care, 281–282; fiduciary duty, 282–283; personal actions, 283; prevention, 283–284
Life cycle. See Family businesses: developmental stages
"Life in the Family Circle," 383–398
Lyman, A. R., "Life in the Family Circle," 383–398

M

McCollom, M. E., "Integration in the Family Firm: When the Family System Replaces Controls and Culture," 399–417
McDonald's, 341

"Managerial Practices That Support Interpreneurship and Continued Growth," 339–359
Management teams, 449. See also Task and business teams
Managers: retirement, 139; review, 444–445; succession, 129–130; task force, 138
Marcus, S., Minding the Store, reviewed, 87–91
Marriott, 353
Mathile, C. L., "A Business Owner's Perspective on Outside Boards," 231–237
Merchant Princes: An Intimate History of Jewish Families Who Built Department Stores, 450–454
Midwest Electronics, 342
Miller, E. J., "The Family Business in Contemporary Society," 191–210
Minding the Store, reviewed, 87–91
Model Statutory Close Corporation Supplement, 279–280
Mueller, C. P., "Differential Directorship: Special Sensitivities and Roles for Serving the Family Business Board," 239–247
M. W. Carr Company, 30

N

Nash, J. M., "Boards of Privately Held Companies: Their Responsibilities and Structure," 263–269
National Association of Corporate Directors (NACD), 263, 265
National Cash Register (NCR), 41
National Center for Employee Ownership (NCEO), 24–25
Nervous money, 346
Networks, interpersonal, 384–385, 392
The New Corporate Directors, reviewed, 323–327
Nielsen, J. F., review by, 330–333
Neiman-Marcus, 87–91

O

Occidental Petroleum, 124
Open-systems model, 399–400
Organizational adaptation: emotional dimension, 78–80; intersystem boundary issues, 75–78; legitimizing structures, 81–83; task structures, 80–81
Organizational change: adaptation to, 70–74; dialectical view, 71–83; and family firms, 45–50, 69–84; through hybrids and outsiders, 49; and interpreneurship, 343; and leadership assumptions, 48–49; planning, 46–48, 119–143. See also Family businesses
Organizational development, 343
Organizational integration: and culture, 401; vs. coordination, 400; defined, 400; formal systems for, 400–401; model, 402–414; role of family in, 401–402
Organizational theory: dialectical approach, 70–71; human relations, 69–71; integration, 400–401; open-systems model, 399–400
Oscar Mayer Company, 440
Outside boards: vs. advisory boards, 276–277; benefits of, 269–270; and CEO, 231–237, 274–275; compensation, 246–247, 276; and family business boards, 249–261; vs. inside boards, 298–299, 317; member requirements, 272–274; performance review function, 237, 251; vs. public company boards, 246–247; threshold company, 313–315. See also Boards of directors
Outside Directors in the Family Owned Business, reviewed, 327–330
Ownership equity structures, 354

P

Parkinson's Law, 433
Passing the Baton: Managing the Process of CEO Succession, reviewed, 447–450
Performance review, 237, 251, 444–445
Perrow, E. L., review by, 94–99
Pillsbury Company, 443
Planning. See Succession planning
Poza, E. J., "Managerial Practices That Support Interpreneurship and Continued Growth," 339–359
Private company board practices, survey: committees, 299–300; family business boards, 302–304; future research, 306; hypothesis, 290; liability/insurance, 301–302; meetings, 293–298; members, 300–301; satisfaction with, 304–305; typologies, 290–292

Private company boards: vs. advisory boards, 268–269, 276–277, 283–284; chairpersons, 266; committees, 266, 299–300; composition, 265–266; information flow, 267; legal requirements, 264–265; liability/insurance, 301–302; meetings, 267–68, 293–298; reports, 298; responsibility, 264; role, 265, 298–299. See also Boards of directors; Private company board practices, survey
Procter and Gamble, 341
Profit-sharing plans, 354

Q

Quality Commodity Company, 167–188
Quarrey, M., "Family Businesses and Employee Ownership," 23–35

R

Rational approach, 146–147
Resistance, 362
Return on investment (ROI), 351
Return on net assets (RONA), 353
Revised Model Business Corporation Act of 1984, 240, 279, 281
Reward systems, 353
Rice, A. K., "The Family Business in Contemporary Society," 191–210
Roger Distributing Company, 434
"The Role of the Board in the Threshold Firm," 309–321
Rosenblatt, P. C., The Family in Business: Understanding and Dealing with the Challenges Entrepreneurial Families Face, reviewed, 211–215

S

Schipani, C. A., "Legal Liability: The Board of Directors," 279–285
S. C. Johnson and Son, Inc., 355–357
Securities and Exchange Commission, 265
Seidel, G. J., "Legal Liability: The Board of Directors," 279–285
"Selecting Outside Directors," 271–277
Self-reflective boards, 259–260. See also Family business boards
Siehl, C., review by, 91–94
Social contracts, 347
"The Special Role of Strategic Planning for Family Businesses," 105–117
Specializations, 350
Stakeholders, 122–132, 241, 245
Stern, D., "Adaptation, Survival, and Growth of the Family Business: An Integrated Systems Perspective," 69–85
Strategic development. See Strategic planning
Strategic exploration, 342–343
Strategic planning: benefits, 115–116; and business alternatives, 113–114; business, 109; defined, 108–109; family, 109; family commitment to, 111; and financial analysis, 111–113; need, 106–108, 218; opposition to, 114–115; and organizational success, 108; paradigms, 367; steps, 110–114; structural typologies, 366
Strategic Planning Institute, Cambridge, Massachusetts, 105
Succession: adult and career development theory of, 364–365; and boards of directors, 139–140; of CEOs, 447–450; contingency theory perspective, 370–371; cultural perspective, 368–369; daughters', 11–19; environmental influences, 370–372; executive, 372–373; family business systems perspective, 367–368; group-level influences, 365–368; Herson's patterns, 152; history, 52–66; model of resistance to, 373–377; organizational development perspective, 369–370; organizational influences, 368–370; planning for, 121–122; population ecology perspective, 371–372; psychological perspective, 362–365; stakeholders, 122–132; traditional patterns of, 10; younger sons', 11–19. See also Succession planning

"The Succession Conspiracy," 119–143
"Succession in Family Firms: The Problem of Resistance," 361–381
Succession planning: ambivalence toward, 121–122; anxieties about, 129, 131; basic tasks of, 135; and boards of directors, 139–140; and death, 124, 134; and families, 127–129; and founders, 124–127; and founders' spouses, 128; and managers, 129–130; mobilizing, 132–140; and owners, 130–131; reasons for, 120; resistance to, 373–377; stakeholders, 122–132
"A Survey of Board Practices," 289–308
Systems approach, 156–157, 213–214

T

Task and business teams, 352–353
Thompson Manufacturing Company, 441–442, 444
Threshold companies: arbitrators for, 315; boards, 315–316; defined, 309–310; developmental stages, 315–318; precepters for, 314–315; problems, 311–315; technical advisers for, 315
Tillman, F. A., "Commentary on Legal Liability: Organizing the Advisory Council," 287–288
Transition. See Change

U

"Understanding and Consulting to Family Business Boards," 249–261

V

Vance, S. C., Corporate Leadership: Boards, Directors, and Strategy, reviewed, 330–333
Vancil, R., Passing the Baton: Managing the Process of CEO Succession, reviewed, 447–450
Venture capital firms, 350–351, 355

W

Walt Disney Productions, 341
Ward, J. L.: "The Active Board with Outside Directors and the Family Firm," 223–229; Keeping the Family Business Healthy: How to Plan for Continuing Growth, Profitability, and Family Leadership, reviewed, 217–220; "The Special Role of Strategic Planning for Family Businesses," 105–117; "A Survey of Board Practices," 289–308
Weiser, J., "Family Businesses and Employee Ownership," 23–35
Whisler, T. L., "The Role of the Board in the Threshold Firm," 309–321
W. L. Gore and Associates, 43–44
Women: as CEOs, 11–20; and family businesses, 383–397; gender role behavior, 386; interpersonal networks of, 384–387, 390–393; kin involvement of, 386–387; networks of, vs. men's networks, 393–397; succession of, 10–19
Wray New England Printing Company, 437